

TRAMPA BIO

Trampa was born in 2006 in Brasilia, home of some of the leading rock bands of Brazil. The group is mainly influenced by various genres of rock, such as grunge, post-grunge, indie, punk and Stoner Rock. The current formation includes André Noblat (vocals), Pedro Cardoso (bass), Rafael Maranhão (guitar), Rodrigo Vegetal (guitar) and Arnaldo Ravizzini (drums).

The band performed its first official concert in 2006 and released a self titled EP in 2007. The following work include two DVDs (Trampa Sinfônica and Causa e Efeito), the albums "Te Presenteio com a Fúria", "Causa e Efeito", "¡Viva la Evolución!", which made it to some of the "best albums of Brazil" lists in 2016, and their latest one called "Trampa A Sinfonia which features songs from all their albums in acoustic versions, all played alongside with an orchestra.

Within these 12 years of existence, Trampa has played shows and festivals in more than 50 cities throughout Brazil and Canada and has played as a showcase artist on SXSW, 2015 in Austin, TX, USA, on Indie Week 2016, 2017 and 2018 editions in Toronto, ON (becoming one of the Top 3 bands of the 2017 Festival edition) and on the Canadian Music Week 2018 edition.

In 2019, the band will release their newest studio work: an EP entitled "Never Forget" which contains their first fully English written songs.

Trampa, nowadays, has a trustful fan base gathered due to its constant live activity and a relevant work on its social media. The band also sustains its career by acting directly in its city's music scene, by working with other
